PERSI CHOICE 401(k) PLAN COMPARISON CHART

COMPARE THE PERSI CHOICE 401(k) PLAN AND OTHER RETIREMENT SAVING OPTIONS

Unlike many employees, you have a choice when deciding how to save for retirement. The comparison chart on the next page is designed to summarize and compare some of the main features of each of the retirement savings plan options that might be available to you.

What Do All These Numbers Mean...401(k), 457, 403(b)?

Having choices may be better, but it doesn't always make it easier...and with all of these different numbers floating around, it's easy to become confused as to what is what. 401(k), 457, 403(b)...they're all a bunch of numbers that can sometimes make you think you're back in math class. In fact, each of these numbers refers to a different section of the Internal Revenue Code.

It's true that these plans have some features in common. All allow you to:

- ◆ Elect a portion of your pay to be directed to a personalized account on a pre-tax basis
- ◆ Save for retirement while deferring income taxes today
- ◆ Diversify your portfolio among several investment options

So...why so many choices?

Basically, it comes down to who you work for...

Your contributions will begin as soon as administratively possible, which is usually the next pay cycle.

BE AWARE OF FEES...

Whether you enroll in the Choice 401(k) Plan or a 403(b) or 457 plan, you are able to choose how your contributions are invested. There are several different choices of investment funds, which range from the most stable type of investment to investments that have a greater potential risk and reward.

One important factor that many people overlook when making their investment choices are the fees and expenses associated with each investment. For example, these funds may have expenses or fees associated with the basic operation of the fund, such as management fees and other operating expenses. Some may also include fees that are charged if you exchange or redeem funds within a certain time period of initially contributing to that fund.

Be aware that all of these fees may negatively affect your fund returns. Here's an example. Let's assume that you have $25,000 in retirement savings and are choosing to invest your money in one of these two investment funds:

- ◆ Investment Fund A – Average management fee is 0.5%
- ◆ Investment Fund B – Average management fee is 1.5%

If you make no more contributions to your account, but the returns on the investments in your account average 7% over the next 35 years, and you chose:

- ◆ Investment Fund A – Your account balance could grow to $227,000
- ◆ Investment Fund B – Your account balance would only grow to $163,000

The 1% difference in investment management fees would reduce your account balance at retirement by 28% – a difference of $64,000!

You can find more information about investment fees on the Department of Labor's website at: www.dol.gov/ebsa/publications/401k_employee.html

But it gets better...if you enroll in the PERSI Choice 401(k) Plan, you have the option of investing your contributions in the Total Return Fund (the plan's default fund). No direct investment management fees are associated with the Choice 401(k) Plan Total Return Fund.

WHEN CONSIDERING AN INVESTMENT...

Ask about what fees may be associated with the investment fund options including:

- ◆ Record Keeping Fees – PERSI pays for active participants who enroll in the Choice 401(k) Plan
- ◆ Investment Management Fees – No direct investment management fees are charged for the PERSI Total Return Fund and the fees for the other Choice 401(k) Plan funds range from .08% to .96%

The fees below are not charged by PERSI, but you should also ask about these fees for any other investment fund option you are considering:

- ◆ Individual Service Fees (i.e., loan applications, executing investment directions)
- ◆ Sales Charges (loads or commissions)
- ◆ Front-End Loads
- ◆ Back-End Loads
- ◆ Deferred Sales Charges
- ◆ Redemption Fees
- ◆ Rule 12b-1 Fees
- ◆ Insurance-Related Charges
- ◆ Surrender Charges
